MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Intelligence

SUBJECT : Directorate Academic Relations,
January - June 1976

1. This memorandum transmits to you a semi-annual status report on the Intelligence Directorate's relations with the scholarly community. Generally speaking, it does not include paid relationships, although in the category "Academic Guests" a number have been paid a one-time honorarium to come here as guest speakers. As you can see, the report reflects an impressive number and diversity of external contacts. It belies the argument of some that CIA's analysts are cut off from the best non-governmental thinking about international relations.

2. The last six-month report was circulated to the Office Directors and DDI Staff Chiefs. I suggest that you send some form of this report to the DCI and the Assistant to the Director. Because so many DDI personnel do reach out to professional colleagues, I would also recommend that this report be distributed throughout the directorate--perhaps via [redacted]

3. Finally, I am pleased to report that the offices in the directorate were extremely cooperative in reading and updating a preliminary version of this report. They see the value of outside contact, and also the value of its tabulation. Full credit for the compilation and format of this report goes to my secretary, [redacted].
